Janette Mallory Interior Design, Inc.

Photography by Jim McHugh

We covered Janette Mallory's flair in design in our January/February issue, and because she's so creatively diverse, we invited her back to showcase two more homes that are quite distinct in style. With a strong foundation in design theory (UCLA Design School), Janette launched her business over 15 years ago and has offered her appreciative clients an artful blending of traditional and eclectic design with a fresh and contemporary look.

DINING ROOM: This traditional Mediterranean dining room was transformed into a New York perthouse-style dining room.

This home is in North Ranch and belongs to John Ondrask of 'Five For Fighting'. Once again, Janette has captured the Ondrask's family life style beautifully. None of her design work is ever a replica of something else. Her innovative styles are a perfect complement to clients who want their homes to be an expression of themselves.

LOUNGE: Hollywood Glam meets East Coast sophistication in a Lounge made for entertainment

Homeandheart®

This home (which features the Dining Room on Pages 66 and 67) belongs to a glamorous, hip, fun couple who wanted to transform their traditional Mediterranean home into something that was more reflective of their style. Janette produced this sophisticated East Coast/Hollywood Glam end result which is completely compatible with the owners' frequent entertaining lifestyle. 🍷

Janette Mallory's design services include landscape design and complete custom remodeling.
